and Limes academic yearbook

* * *

The Acta Academiae Beregsasiensis journal accepts original, novel empirical and theoretical material, which has not been published previously, including scholarly history and in rare cases, educational material.

The Acta is primarily committed to the publication of scholarships of Transcarpathian researchers, or those related to the study of Transcarpathia, at the same time providing the opportunity for other scholars who choose to publish their novel material in this volume in any other relevant field or subject.

Studies in Hungarian, Ukrainian, Russian, English and German are eligible for publication in the journal, supplied with abstracts in three languages (Hungarian, Ukrainian and English) with keywords, personal information (with an e-mail address) and the paper's title. In the case of papers written in Russian and German, the English abstract, paper's title and personal information are replaced with the ones written in the original language of the study.

Follow the suggested pattern in providing personal information: János Kis, Ferenc Rákóczi II Transcarpathian Hungarian College of Higher Education, Department of Philology, English Department Group, associate professor, kis_janos@gmail.com

The abstract should be concise, including five or six sentences at the most. The abstract, personal information and the title of the study written in capital letters, for example: ACTA ACADEMIAE BEREGSASIENSIS – will not be accepted.

The following technical criteria are to be complied with: font Times New Roman, font size 12, single line spacing. The length of the paper should not exceed 20 pages of A4 format. In the case of students, the length of the paper is 10 pages at most, which must be supplied with a recommendation from an established scholar holding a degree, who assumes responsibility for the authenticity, allegations, and credibility of the paper.

In case the paper contains:

1. Diagrams – please include the original Excel file.
2. Images – please include the original jpg file.

One style should be consistently used for all charts in the paper. When choosing the colour of the charts, keep in mind that they will be published in black and white, so choose distinct colours and patterns.
