Ferenc Rákóczi II Transcarpathian Hungarian College of Higher Education

Level of the	Bachelor	Form of study	Full time	Academic year	2020/2021
course unit				/ semester	Autumn
				IV/7

Syllabus

	Бупавиз
Course Title	BB14 British and American Literature: American Novel from the Beginnings to the 19th century
	ВВ14 Зарубіжна (американська) літ.:Американський роман від поч. до 19 ст.
Department	Philology
Programme of Studies:	Галузь знань: 01 Освіта/Педагогіка
	"Середня освіта (Мова і література англійська)"
	01 "Education/Pedagogy"
	"Secondary Education (English Language and Literature)"
Course Type (e.g. core,	Course Type: elective course
elective), Student workload:	Number of ECTS credits: 4
Number of ECTS credits,	Lectures: 20 (Learning centered)
Modes of instruction/work	Seminars: 28
hours (lectures / seminars,	Independent study: 72
laboratory classes / independent study)
Course coordinator	Dr Bányász V., PhD, Associate professor
Course Lecturer(s)	В. В. Баняс nybanias@gmail.com
Assistant(s)	Enikő Nagy-Kolozsvári, MA degree, Senior lecturer
(Name, surname, Academic	Nagy-Kolozsvári Enikő: nagy-kolozsvari.eniko@kmf.org.ua degree and rank, e-mail address)
Course Prerequisites
Course description, Course	The course will analyze representative examples of American
Course description, Course overview, Course	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content,	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content,	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character.
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to:
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: Provide students with an overview of the history of the
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature.
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19 th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature;
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader;
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information;
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information; Learning outcomes:
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information; Learning outcomes: Students will be able to:
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information; Learning outcomes: Students will be able to: - Identify and analyze details and create effect;
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information; Learning outcomes: Students will be able to: - Identify and analyze details and create effect; - Appreciate tone such as irony and its relationship to
Course description, Course overview, Course Objectives, Content, Learning outcomes	literature from the period of exploration and settlement to the 19th century. It will introduce works of prose, poetry, fiction in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors for what they reflect and reveal about the evolving American experience and character. Its main objectives are to: - Provide students with an overview of the history of the American literature. - Familiarize students with the most prominent novelists and authors in American literature; - Understand what it means to be an active, close reader; - Develop critical thinking skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information; Learning outcomes: Students will be able to: - Identify and analyze details and create effect;

	- Analyze characterization within the text;
	- Evaluate stylistic features in novels.
	Course syllabus: - The New World: America at the Time of Columbus - Early Colonial Literature (1600-1700) - Early to Late Eighteenth-Century American Literature - Post-Revolutionary America (1783-1820) - American literature between 1820 and 1890
Grading Policy, Methods of	Elements of final grade:
Assessment	All assignments, tests, activities will be graded on a standard five-tiered (1-5) scale.
	Weighting of Assignments and Testing: Active and informed participation in seminar work – 10% Presentation of a given topic (10-15 min.) – 10% Mini tests – 10% Two module tests – 20%
	Final exam – 50% (The course will be completed with an oral exam)
	Grading scale: 0-59 fail, 60-74 pass, 75-89 good, 90-100 excellent
Course Policy	Students are required to attend lectures and seminars regularly and they are expected to be active participants of both the lectures and seminars. The extent and the quality of class participation will be taken into consideration for the final grade. Reading the assigned texts . Students are required to come prepared for class: they must be able to understand the texts (know the words), remember details, and formulate their critical comments. Not reading the assignment for a class counts as an absence. Students are expected to complete all homework independently (unless otherwise required). Working together for anything other than group work and/or plagiarising published research is considered cheating. Students are allowed to take the final exam in January if they have successfully passed the module tests. Students have to pay close attention to deadlines.
Basic literature of the discipline and other information resources	Literature – Oxford University Press, 2001 – 556p. D. Delaney, C. Ward, C. R. Fiorina: Fields of Vision. Literature in the English Language. Vol. I-II. Longman, 2009. G.C. Thornley, G. Roberts: An Outline of English Literature. Longman, 2006, 216 p. K. Brodey, F. Malgaretti: Focus on English and American Literature. Modern Languages, 2002, 368 p. R. Carter, J. McRae: The Penguin Guide to Literature in English. Penguine English Guides, 2001, 263 p. D. R. Allen, P.G. Smith, F. G. Malgaretti: Words Words A History and Anthology of Literatures in English. From the Beginnings to the 18th Century. Vol. I-II. La Spiga Languages, 2003.			